
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

During the preparation of this compilation, the author had free access to Shell's basin analyses and in-house special studies. These have been prepared by his colleagues in Shell's exploration and research teams both in Europe and overseas. Their indirect contributions to this compilation are herewith acknowledged.

Special thanks are due to the following Shell staff: Drs. E. Haan for his detailed analysis of the Mesozoic and Cenozoic evolution of the Mediterranean area, which formed the basis for the interpretations shown in the attached paleogeographic-paleotectonic maps; Mr. B. K. Balke, M.A., Drs. J. H. Braakman, and Dr. J. de Jager for discussions on the evolution of the Arctic Ocean; Dr. B. van Hoorn, Dr. P. H. Nelson, Dr. C. Bukovics, and Dr. G. Gorin for their contributions on the geology of the UK and Norwegian Shelf areas; Dr. B. M. Reinhardt for comments on Spain, and Dr. O. Friedenreich for discussions on the evolution of the Atlantic shelves of Canada. Specific contributions in the form of cross sections appearing as text figures are acknowledged in the respective captions.

Moreover, the author is indebted to Prof. R. Trümpy, Zürich, and Prof. J. Dercourt, Paris, for stimulating discussions on the Alpine-Mediterranean domain; and to Dr. U. Mayr and Dr. A. F. Embry, Calgary, and Dr. E. Håkonsson, Copenhagen, for their contributions on the evolution of the Sverdrup Basin and northern Greenland. Special thanks are due to my friends and colleagues Prof. A. W. Bally, Houston, and Dr. D. G. Roberts, London, for critically and constructively reviewing this volume.

Thanks are extended to Mrs. Andrea Heijnen and Mrs. Ineke Hilberding for their assistance during the construction of maps and diagrams, to Messrs. E.C.M. Schmidt and W.A. Hoekstra and their teams for their drafting efforts, and to Miss Monique Molenaar for typing the manuscript.

Finally, the author would like to thank his wife for her patience and understanding of his preoccupation with this project, which has taken up so much of his spare time during the last two to three years. This book is dedicated to her as a token of his gratitude.

The author is indebted to Shell Internationale Petroleum Maatschappij B.V. for having given him the opportunity and free hand to carry out this compilation and for releasing it for publication.
